PRESS RELEASE

TRACSYSTEMS Receives Gold from the 2016 Modern Library Awards

DALLAS, TEXAS (December 11, 2015) – TRACSYSTEMS, inc., a leading provider of computer, print and payment automation solutions, is pleased to announce it has received a gold award in LibraryWorks' second annual Modern Library Awards (MLAs.) The MLAs were created to recognize the top products in the library industry in a truly unbiased format. Products were submitted in the fall using a simple application, and then were posted on a private site with an enhanced description and attendant materials. These products were batched into small groups and sent to the LibraryWorks database of more than 80,000 librarians at public, K-12, academic, and special libraries. Only customers with experience with these products in their facilities were permitted to judge the products, resulting in a truly unbiased score.

Each judge scored the product on a numeric basis from 1-10 on a series of questions regarding functionality, value, customer service, etc.

"We're pleased and excited to receive this honor. This award is especially gratifying because the Modern Library Awards are judged by actual customers that use our services. Our goal is to create products that are rich in features yet are still easy to use. We're proud to know that our solutions help libraries provide great services and experiences to their patrons."
- Jeffrey Libby, TRACSYSTEMS President & CEO

The TRACSYSTEMS AVSII Add Value Station Kiosk is a self-serve payment station designed for patrons, students and guests to create and add funds to an account used for printing and copying. The first Add Value Station was implemented 2005 and today is at the center of the pay-for-print experience at libraries and colleges across North America. Its preeminent features are:

- An intuitive, self-serve user experience interface on a large color touchscreen
- A modular component design that allows custom configurations to meet the needs of any library of college (can accept coins, bills, and/or credit card, dispense guest cards, and print receipts)
- Manufactured and supported by our expert Technical Support
